NEW LUNG CANCER SCREENING - LCS (Lung Cancer Screening)

LCS is a NHS cancer screening programme in the UK that invites people aged 55-74 who have smoked or are ex-smokers to have a free lung health check, often starting with a telephone conversation to assess risk and identify lung cancer early, when it is more treatable.

The initial telephone-based Lung Health Check determines if a person is at a high enough risk to be referred for a low-dose CT (LDCT) scan, which takes place in mobile units within the community and can detect lung cancer before symptoms appear. This early detection can significantly improve treatment success rates and save lives.

For more information, please see link: www.nhs.uk/tests-and-treatments/lung-cancer-screening/
